UK average house prices rose by 5.8% in the 12 months to February (ONS), and 6.2% in the South West, taking the price of an average property sale in the South West to £242,000. Asking prices also continued to rise.

Fewer homes are coming to the market. According to RICS, levels of available stock per agent fell to a record low in March 2017. The amount of mortgage lending to home-movers (those with a property to sell) is falling, and first time buyers or those seeking to re-mortgage are driving the lending figures.

The rate of mortgage lending dipped in March 2017, suggesting that demand may be starting to slow as consumer spending is tightened. Almost a fifth (18%) of all sales in 2016 were second homes or investments, when measured by the number of transactions that have incurred the 3% stamp duty surcharge for additional properties since April 2016.

The supply of rental property fell in February 2017 according to ARLA Propertymark but demand remains strong. As across the sales market, limited supply supports price growth, with the average rent paid by tenants across the UK rising by 2% in the year to March 2017 (ONS private rental index).

The Economy

Inflation breached the Bank of England's 2% target in February for the first time since 2013. At 2.3%, it is likely to put pressure on wages and household spending.

The consensus forecasts published by the Treasury are for GDP growth of 1.7% in 2017 and inflation (CPI) of 3% by the end of the year, before falling back to 2.5% over 2018.
